A student who audits a course receives neither course credit nor a grade for the course. Seats for auditors in seminary courses may be limited at the instructor's discretion and by the size of the class. Audit registrations (and payments) will be held until the start of the term to allow for accommodation of current students. You will be notified approximately one week in advance of the start of the term about the status of your registration. If the course is unable to accommodate auditors, your registration fee will be returned to you.
